

BDO Sweden - number one in client satisfaction

For the fourth consecutive year, the accountancy firm BDO Sweden has been ranked number one in client satisfaction in the audit industry.

“To be the leader of exceptional client service” is the vision that permeates one of the world’s leading professional advisory and accountancy firms. A vision well established among BDO’s employees, and one that has resulted in the most satisfied customers in the audit industry for 2016, according to the Swedish EPSI Rating Group.

“It’s just as exciting every year. We have been number one for several years in succession and we are very keen to maintain our leading position. The outcome of the EPSI industry study proves our ability to offer consistently high quality and exceptional service,” says Carl-Johan Kjellman, CEO of BDO Sweden.

All in all, BDO has finished in first place in the EPSI industry study on seven occasions. This is the ninth consecutive year that they have been ranked among the top three.

BDO will continue to recruit professional employees with the ability to create strong and long-lasting client relationships.

“We believe that our success is based on personally tailored solutions, excellent service and a proactive approach that enables us to meet customer challenges at an early stage,” says Carl-Johan Kjellman.
